Class II drug safety issue reported for levothyroxine tablets

FDA · Recall

If you take levothyroxine sodium tablets, the US Food and Drug Administration reports a Class II drug safety issue for specific packaged strengths and sizes.

The product described is Levothyroxine Sodium Tablets, USP, 88 mcg (0.088 mg), 100 tablets per carton, distributed nationwide in the USA.

The FDA class II designation means a health hazard is possible, though it is not described as immediately life-threatening in this notice.

Check your tablet packaging against the specific product details listed in the notice, and stop using it only if instructed by the recall information (if provided).
